EMERGING SKYLINE — Indian museum, park heading to West Sacramento

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

West Sacramento may soon "go vertical," in a pretty big way.

That construction crane you see near the city's northern waterfront is helping to build a striking new building for the teachers' retirement investment agency CalSTRS. It will feature 14 stories built over "podium" parking, and will start with about the same amount of space as the nearby "ziggurat" building owned by the state Department of General Services.

"The building is about 400,000 square feet," said Steve Rikala, West Sacramento city planner. "There's a second phase tower planned in addition."

Rikala said he expects the new building to be occupied around the beginning of 2009. With 14 stories above parking space, the sail-shaped building will be almost twice as tall as the 10-story ziggurat.

Meanwhile, Fairfield Residential Incorporated is pursuing land use entitlements for the "River2" project on the other side of the ziggurat, to its south.

"They want to get all their entitlements but are not hot-to-trot to build," reported Steve Patek, director of the city's planning and engineering divisions in the community development department. "They want to see some strength in the market."

River2 will be taller than either of its neighbors, when built. It has CalSTRS as a financial partner.

It will be 240-feet high and 24 stories, with 150 condominium units on just over an acre.

The two tall buildings could be among the first in the "Washington" area of the riverfront.

When the city designed a master-plan for its "Triangle" area, though, it sought to avoid putting tall buildings along the river in that area. For the "Triangle area, reaching south from the freeway bridge to the Tower Bridge, planners opted to encourage developers to build shorter buildings near the river and taller buildings farther away. That way, they felt, the river would not be as badly screened from view for farther structures.

So why is the city encouraging taller structures in the Washington area near the river?

"It's really not how tall the Towers project is," answered Patek. "It's how wide it is. Before, it was designed to be shorter, but it was more of a 'slab' building and that blocked out more of the view of the river. Now, it's more of a tower. Also, you'll notice the CalSTRS building is oriented perpendicular to the river, so it doesn't block as much of the view."

A riverfront West Sacramento site is well on its way to becoming an American Indian cultural center expected to attract up to 900,000 people per year, reports Val Toppenberg, director of the West Sacramento Redevelopment Agency.

The city is in negotiations with the state's parks department and the California Indian Heritage Center, and expects to donate 43 acres of publicly-owned property for use as a museum and park. The state is also negotiating to acquire smaller pieces of land from nearby developers.. They are also trying to buy a 25-acre contiguous property from the Cook Inlet Company.

Why would West Sacramento give away riverfront land?

"There are a couple of things that West Sacramento gets out of it," said Toppenberg. "One is that there would be a large park that would be built at the site. We would get the park improvements that the state would build, and the waterfront improvements that would give citizens better access to the riverfront. Part of this land would also be for a museum for Indian artifacts."

A lot of those artifacts are currently in storage for lack of display space -- and are practically right down the street from their potential new home.

"Right now, those artifacts are held in a warehouse on Industrial Boulevard," said Toppenberg. "We would expect an attraction that brings visitors along with the best museums in the state. The state has estimated up to 800-900,000 visitors per year."

West Sacramento acquired the land when it agreed to change the terms of a development deal for the subdivision now known as The Rivers, in the city's north area. The land fronts the Sacramento River, across from the mouth of the American River.

The site was formerly offered by West Sacramento as potential home to an official California governor's residence, but the governor's office has taken a hiatus from pursuing such a facility.

Before that, it was planned as a marina.

Toppenberg said that, because most of the city's 43 acres is located outside of the river levee, its use for other development is limited "unless the levee is relocated."

He added that the city is still negotiating terms of the possible land donation, including "concerns like good public access for the community to the riverfront, good ongoing maintenance of the park, and things of that sort."

Toppenberg hopes to have a possible deal in front of the West Sacramento City Council within two months.

Public access to the proposed museum and park would be on 5th Street, he said – a road built to four lanes to handle traffic to new development in the city's north.

The task force looking for a site for the Indian Heritage Center has been seeking a riverfront property in the Sacramento area, hoping to emphasize the historical connection between American Indians and the rivers. They did not find a cost-effective site in Sacramento.

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A longtime neighborhood restaurant and pub is shutting its doors for good tonight to make way for new development.

Skip and Rosie Kittle have owned Westside Pub & Grill on Sixth Street, in the Broderick neighborhood of West Sacramento, for about seven years. They bought it from another owner who operated it briefly. Before that, the restaurant was in business for nearly 30 years as Pankey's Venetian Room, owned by Geri Pankey and her late husband.

Geri Pankey is retired, but still lives above the current restaurant. She has to find a new place to live now.

What's Westside Pub & Grill like?

"It's an American bar and restaurant," said Rosie Kittle, who handles the establishment from day to day. "We serve breakfast only on Sundays, but we serve lunch and dinner daily. We have burgers, soups, and daily specials like chicken-fried steak, meat loaf, or on Wednesdays, Mexican food. Our clam chowder is terrific!"

Kittle said that her restaurant has been on a month-to-month lease for some time, as a new property owner pursues plans to replace the restaurant with new development. That will leave some customers, like Park Boulevard-area resident Don Courtright, shaken from their routine. Courtright is retired.

"It's my daily destination," he said of Westside. "After I get done puttering around my house, I stop in here around 3. I meet my brother here. I meet my drinking buddies here. When my vegetables are ready, I bring them in here and give them out to all my friends."

Courtright doesn't find other local establishments as "homey" as Westside.

"I see the same faces three or four times a week," she commented. "We get a lot of the business trade during the day. We get people from Coca Cola, from DBI (a beverage distributor), from Raley's corporate office, from Ramos Oil. We get a lot of people in suits, and others in company uniforms."

Kittle said she learned much of her restaurant trade from tenure with the Sacramento Kings organization, and used to own a couple of establishments near the river in southern Sacramento County. Her husband now helps out at Westside, cooking on Sundays. He works elsewhere full time.

'I meet my brother here. I meet my drinking buddies here. When my vegetables are ready, I bring them in here and give them out to all my friends.'

The pair hope to retire in a few years – but not yet.

"When we close here, I am going to go to this place in Rio Linda we call 'home," joked Rose Kittle. "I don't recognize it much anymore. We have a home in Cabo, and we're probably going to retire there. But I want to work here about five more years. I have a prospective place in West Sacramento I hope to open a new place, but it's not available until later this year."

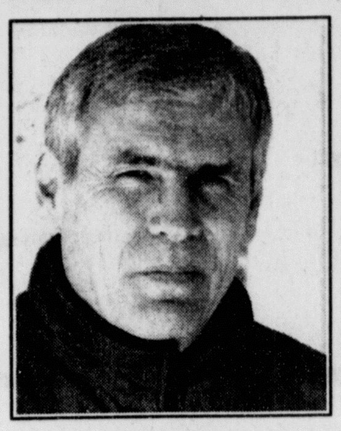
Getting all dressed up, just to play golf

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Once every year, my wife eagerly jumps into a car with some of her girlfriends and speeds off to Ashland, Oregon, to spend a whole weekend watching two or three William Shakespeare plays. They stay in a very fancy bed and breakfast inn, and when they're not being entertained by the ageless words and plots of history's greatest playwright, they go shopping, or leisurely take in all the sights, or just lounge around in quaint little watering holes, sipping wine and reflecting on how wonderful it is to have a few free days and nights just to themselves.

I, of course, am never invited to go.

"It's a girls' thing," my wife always assures me. "Plus you know you don't really like Shakespeare plays anyway. You would fall asleep in your chair before the first act is over."

"But some of the soliloquies are okay," I said. "And his 116th sonnet should be required reading for anyone who thinks that falling in love is going to be a piece of cake."

"You've actually read Shakespeare's 116th sonnet?" asked my surprised wife, who, having once been an English teacher, still hasn't gotten over the shock that my hometown newspaper actually allows a vocabulary-challenged person like me to print a 750-word column in it each week.

"Hey, Mom," suddenly said my youngest son, who had just strolled into the room, "are you all packed and ready to go see some of those stupid Shakespeare plays again?"

"Almost."

"You know," said my youngest son with a smile, "for all Dad and I know, you and your friends don't even go to any of those plays. I bet you spend the whole time in some Indian gambling casino....or go bar-hopping until two o'clock in the morning."

"Well," said my wife with an alarmingly straight face, "I'll certainly never tell."

"Anyway," said my youngest son, "did you already go to the store and get me and Dad something to eat while you're gone."

"Yes," said my wife, "the refrigerator is full of all kinds of stuff and there should be no reason whatsoever for either one of you to starve to death while I'm gone."

Once my wife and her girlfriends had left West Sacramento in the dust (they looked like gleeful prison escapees by the way), it suddenly dawned on me that I didn't have anything very interesting planned for my weekend. I can't stand all the cigarette smoke in Indian casinos, so that was out of the question. And since I don't drink, bar-hopping wouldn't be much fun, either. So I decided to call up my soon-to-be son-in-law (Dallas) and see if he wanted to go golfing.

"I know what," I told him, "why don't we go to a golf course out of town -- one we've never played before. You know, a really fancy and challenging course."

"But playing a course like that is usually pretty expensive," Dallas reminded me.

"Well," I said, "it can't cost anymore than going all the way to Oregon to see a Shakespeare play."

"Okay," said Dallas, "I'll call around and try to get us a tee-time for tomorrow."

"Great!"

Later that afternoon, I got a phone call from my daughter saying that Dallas had indeed been able to get us reservations for a beautiful and challenging golf course up in the foothills of Auburn, but that there might be a little problem.

"Little problem?" I asked. "What little problem?"

"Well," said my daughter as tactfully as she could, "apparently the really good golf courses have very strict dress codes."

"Dress codes?"

"And Dallas says you like to golf in jeans and a T-shirt?"

"That's right."

"Well, they won't let you on their golf course looking that way."

"But I would be wearing a brand new T-shirt and pair of jeans," I assured my daughter.

"It doesn't matter. Dallas says you will at least have to wear slacks and a shirt with a collar."

"You're kidding?"

"Of course I own a pair of light-colored slacks," I lied.

"Good. Because Dallas has plenty of golf shirts with collars that will go really well with light-colored slacks, and he would be more than happy to loan you one, so there should be no problem."

"Of course there will be a problem!" I shouted into the phone. "I can't possibly play a good round of golf if I'm all dressed up!"

Anyway, after forcing myself to buy a pair of light-colored slacks, and with a loaner shirt from Dallas on my back, I stood uncomfortably in front of my smiling daughter as Dallas loaded our golf clubs into his truck.

"Stop squirming," said my daughter. "You look great."

"But I still don't think I'm going to be able to golf very good all dressed up like this."

"I just want you to promise me one thing, okay, Dad?"

"Sure -- what?"

"Not a problem! I'm even going to break out my black slacks! By the way, do you think Dallas might have a really nice shirt that goes good with black slacks?"

West Sacramento is my first Choice!

Do you ever wonder how businesses come up with their names? Many people think a business owner will sit down with a highly paid advertising or marketing guru and do tons of research to come up with the magic words. Yet many times it's a process so simple it leaves you wondering, "Why didn't I think of that?" That is the story of Choice Mortgage in West Sacramento. I'm Lori Heavin and I'm the owner of Choice Mortgage and have been for nearly a decade now. The owner that is, I've been Lori for a little longer than that.

So the story goes, when I decided to open my own mortgage business, the first thing I asked was, "What do I call this business?" A friend and I sat down and tossed around countless names and then she said, "Lori, your name will be Choice Mortgage." I said, "Really?" She replied, "Yes, and it's not just that you will be the customer's choice but it's your choice to serve the people of your home town." Next came the, "Why didn't I think of that?"

If you're looking at financing a new home or refinancing your current residence, doesn't it make sense to work with someone who knows your area as well if not better than you? Most of the people I work with, from office employees to appraisers have been with me the whole way. I was raised in West Sacramento and have spent half my 30 years in the loan business right here. So, don't you find yourself saying, "Why didn't I think of that?" when it comes to financing the most important transaction of your life. I'm Lori Heavin and Choice Mortgage is right here in West Sacramento, right where we belong.

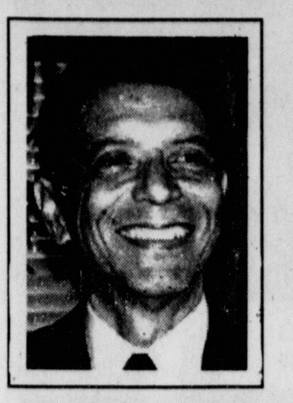
SPORTS INSIDER



By Richard Novoa

By Richard Novoa

The San Antonio Spurs have figured out a way to corral King James and the young Cleveland Cavaliers leading the best of seven series two games to none. The Spurs have dominated the championship series by putting a constant blanket on Lebron James forcing other players to pick up the slack.

So far the strategy is working for the Spurs as the series shifts back to Cleveland for a must win Games 3 for King James on Tuesday night followed by another critical Game 4 on Thursday. If the Spurs don't pull out the "Lebroom" to sweep the Cavs, game 5 is scheduled for Sunday night in the city with the "Rock and Roll Hall of Fame". If necessary, game 6 and 7 would be played in San Antonio.

Diamond Notes

Speaking of "Lebroom" the Oakland A's brought out their own big broom this weekend to embarrass the S.F. Giants with a three game sweep at AT& T Park. The A's whipped the Giants in 5 out the 6 games they played this season. The A's beat the G-Men on Friday night in extra innings in a game that forced the Giants to use 21 players and pitcher Noah Lowery in right field while thirdbaseman Pedro Feliz filled in behind the plate for the injured catcher.

The A's also beat up Barry Zito again for the second time this year. The G-Men managed to score only 2 runs in the last two games of the series as Barry Bonds and the Giants bats took the weekend off. The Bonds watch continues as Bonds finally hits another home run on Monday night after going homerless since May 27th. Barry needs 9 more four baggers as he inches closer to Aaron's magic mark of 755.

The Giants are home this week against the Toronto Blue Jays before they head east to play the Boston Red Sox over the weekend. The A's will be in Houston during the week before they return to host the St. Louis Cardinals this weekend.

The River Cats are still hanging on to first place by ½ game in the Southern Division but it's a miracle considering all the injuries to the Cats and the Oakland A's. The Gatos are in a bit of a slump after losing two consecutive series in which the Cats have lost three out of four games and to add insult to injury the River Cats pitchers have given up 45 runs and 64 hits. Ouch!

The River Cats have eight players on the DL many whom have missed 30 games or more. The Gatos newest addition right-hander Augustin Montero got bombed in his first start after joining the team Saturday after being released from the Mexican League.

The River Cats are in Fresno during the week but return to the friendly confines of Raley Field this weekend to host Las Vegas.

Kings Korner

The search for the Kings new coach continues especially after Stan Van Grundy took the Orlando Magic job. The good news is the Kings are considering hiring from within the organization. Yes, the Kings are seriously thinking about hiring assistant coach Scott Brooks who played 11 years in the NBA and has paid his coaching dues under seven different head coaches. Personally, I would love to see the Maloofs do the right thing and hire Brooks instead of an ex-Lakers player/coach in Kurt Rambis!

Korner Kicks

The United States Men's soccer team beat Trinidad 2-0 on Saturday in Carson, Ca. in the first round of the CONCACAF Gold Cup. The U.S.A. Team was lead by goals from Brian Chin and Eddie Johnson and now sits atop Group B with six points. The U.S. will play El Salvador on Tuesday, June 12, at Gillette Stadium in Boston.

In group C, the Mexican national team was shocked by Honduras as forward Carlos Costly scored twice to give Honduras a 2-1 win over Mexico while Panama tied Cuba 2-2 in the Gold Cup soccer matches on Sunday.

The Mexicans, under new coach Hugo Sanchez, struggled to beat Cuba 2-1 in their first match on Friday, while Honduras lost their opening match 3-2 to Panama.

The defeat was a blow for four-time Gold Cup winners Mexico, who played most of the second half with 10 men after striker Cuauhtémoc Blanco was sent off with a red card.

Canada won group A and the USA also qualified in group B to move on to the second round of the Gold Cup in Boston on June 16th or to Houston on June 17th. The semi-finals are set for Chicago on June 21st with the final set for Sunday, June 24th at Soldier Field in Chicago. You can watch the Gold Cup on Spanish channels Univision (ch.19) and TeleFutura (ch.64).

Between the Ropes

Sacramento boxing fans were stunned last Friday night at the Radisson Hotel after little known Donny McCrary from Missouri came to town and knockout local favorite Eric Regan in the first round of their schedule 10 round bout. Regan came out swinging in the first round but ended up catching a right hand to the jaw that landed him on the canvas.

After the referee counted to eight he resumed the fight only to watch Regan take a left hook right on the kisser that sent the heavily favorite champion back to the canvas. The referee didn't even bother to count as a stunned crowd watched their local hero out for the count. Lucky for Regan his IBA Intercontential championship belt wasn't on the line.

I smell a championship rematch in the very near future!

Enjoy your day – See ya next week!

Art on display at local library

By Betty Fairbairn Sokolich

The meeting room at the Arthur Turner Library is awash with color from the luminous paintings by Joanne Lindelof Wilson which will be on display through July. The artist uses the fluidity of watercolor to achieve amazing results of color blending. One of her favorite subjects is the curiosity of children and the things they like to play with and see. Going around the room you can see examples of her delight in children. The boy with a fascination of a leaf has unusual highlights on his face as he gazes up at the dark, large leaf formation above his head.

School uses scissors for charity

West Sacramento's Holy Cross School conducted a "hair drive" of sorts last week, asking people to donate 10-inch-or-longer cuts of hair for charity.

The donated hair went to "Locks for Love," which provides custom, vacuum-fitted hairpieces for children who have lost their scalp hair due to an autoimmune disorder, burns, cancer treatment or other causes.

Nine people showed up to donate hair on June 5. Another four donated later as part of the drive.

Flag Day

As a somewhat "seasoned citizen" (heavy on the salt), I've decided to write a country song entitled: "I'm losing my mind (one memory at a time)". Maybe then I'll be more in step with the increasing numbers of my fellow Americans (many of whom I've observed over the years celebrating national days of observance for those who gave their lives for this nation, as holidays for unrestricted self-indulgence) who are busily dooming themselves, and the rest of us, to repeating history.

Freedom is a right that must be fought for and defended, time and again, in order to be earned. Who knows (or cares): That over 6,000 American men, in what was the greatest amphibious assault ever attempted, lost their lives in Normandy on D Day alone, or that 2,500 lost their lives off the coast of England practicing for it; that in order to raise the flag over Mt. Suribachi on Iwo Jima, it took 36 days and cost 5,931 Marines their lives; That the battle for Okinawa took about three months to win and cost the lives of over 12,500 Sailors and Marines?

Flag Day is June 14th. Where will your hearts and minds be?

Vote 'yes'

The Sacramento Metro Chamber board of directors endorses the West Sacramento Flood Control assessment district election currently being conducted by mail ballot.

The efforts in West Sacramento for flood control are critical to the citizens and the business owners alike. The Metro Chamber worked hard to pass the recent successful SAFCA flood protection assessment election in Sacramento. We hope that its overwhelming passage by voters will energize residents in West Sacramento to approve their assessment.

One of the important reasons the Metro Chamber endorses the flood protection assessment for West Sacramento is that the city is part of the Capital Region Core strategy to improve the riverfront and downtown districts. A strong regional core reaps many dividends for outlying areas. It needs protection and improvement to provide business and recreational resources for residents and visitors.

Flood protection is the Metro Chamber's ongoing top public policy priority. The topic, in fact, will be one of the issues that Metro Chamber members bring on June 20 to State Advocacy Day at the Capitol, when they will have private meetings with the region's elected state officials on appropriations of Proposition 1E flood protection bond funds, transportation bond funds and other allocations.

Being able to show state officials that local residents are willing to help pay for levee improvements sends a positive message and makes both state and federal funds easier to obtain. That is why the Metro Chamber urges a yes vote on the flood assessment by West Sacramento property owners and for them to mail in their ballots by July 10.

Troubles in WUSD

I write this extremely disheartened by the most recent actions of our school district administrators and Board members. The perception (whether intentional or not) is that of a cold, calculating and corrupt entity. For the mayor to say, in his State of the City address, that our school district is moving in a positive direction, and to give the perception that everything is going great is a grossly misleading statement. In personally speaking with many employees throughout our school district, the morale of most District staff (that have not left or been laid off) is the worst it's ever been, which I truly did not think was possible. Changes are being made without any concern on the affects those changes will have in the lives of those affected whether it be the students, staff or families.

River City High School students will have to find a way to attend summer school, which will be held at Golden State Middle School, as busing will not be provided. I only know this because I received one automated voice message telling me I had three days to sign my children up if interested and that there would be no transportation. Nothing has come home or been sent in the mail to offer summer school and explain the transportation issue. Many students that attend the high school summer school program, that has always been held at RCHS, need to make up classes failed or classes needed to keep them on track to graduate. Not providing transportation to those students that have no transportation as well as students that are not motivated to attend, will simply hurt students. What happened to our "motto" to do what's best for kids?

The agenda has a three-hour closed session planned with the "Superintendent's Evaluation" listed, for the third or fourth time this year. Usually, in the public or private sector, an employee is evaluated once a year unless there are problems that need attention, discipline or correction. I believe our Superintendent and Board are using this to discuss issues out of the public's eye so they don't have to deal with the public. This is against the district's by-laws and the law in general. Pretty disturbing with an attorney sitting on the Board don't you think? Wonder what they'll talk about this time?

At the last Board meeting, many people attended and spoke about the community gardens, located on several school sites, that are being closed by the district this summer. One of the concerns expressed was the fact that the district gave little if any notice, which seems to have become a standard practice throughout the district. It was interesting to hear the history of those that work the gardens and the connection to their community through the gardens as well as how it allows them to provide food for their families. The gardens are on property the schools do not use and they have existed for many years. Whether you agree or disagree with the community gardens existence, we all deserve compassion and respect when these decisions have such an incredible affect on people's daily walk of life. Did the Board give direction for this action or was it simply discussed behind closed doors?

Come and see for yourself the issues at hand, this Thursday, June 14th at 7:00pm in City Council Chambers. Come see the misuse of our tax dollars and the lack of respect shown to those who come forward.

about some mischievous act. The color blending of the watercolor gives her a healthy glow. Wilson studied with Gary Pruner and his influence shows in the luminous portrayal of the reflected light on a mass of balloons rising to the sky. The predominately blue color contrasted with touches of orange accents the airiness of the balloons.

A group of small paintings reminds us of childhood pleasures. Candy canes and marbles are arranged in a casual way as if left by the child but the artist composed them beautifully. The next painting shows a young boy surrounded by his favorite toys such as pac-man, bugs, stereo, and the secret things boys like. It intrigues the viewer to see how many items one can identify.

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF DRAFT EIR

A Draft Environmental Impact Report has been prepared for the Yarbrough General Plan Amendment and Rezoning project to be located in the southwest village of Southport, south of Bevan Road, east of the Deep Water Ship Channel, and west of the Sacramento River in the City of West Sacramento. This Draft EIR has been prepared to address the potential environmental impacts of the proposed project. Requested entitlements include a General Plan Amendment and rezoning. The City will also be seeking a Development Agreement with the applicant.

The project would modify the planned development of the Southwest Village. The area is currently planned for residential development ranging from low to medium densities, neighborhood commercial, elementary school, agricultural, open space, and parkland uses. The project would amend the current land use designations to support development of approximately 3,004 residential units (including low-, medium-, and high-density offerings), a mixed-use village core, an 18-hole golf course, a 40-acre lake park, and community open-space areas.

The project would represent an increase of approximately 1,800 residential units compared to what was considered by the Framework Plan EIR. The project also includes changes to the General Plan and the Zoning Map (West Sacramento Municipal Code, Title 17) to generally increase residential densities and add recreational opportunities. The Draft EIR notes impacts on the environment and contains mitigation measures, which if implemented, would reduce the potential impacts to less than significant. The EIR also notes impacts which cannot be mitigated.

Copies of the Draft EIR are on file in the office of the West Sacramento Public Works & Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Sacramento, CA 95691 (telephone: 916/617-4645).

Any affected or interested parties may comment on the Draft EIR beginning on June 13 and comments are due before 5:00 p.m. on July 30, 2007, by calling or writing to Charline Hamilton, Senior Planner, of the Public Works & Community Development Department at the above address and telephone number. Any affected party may also appear at the July 19, 2007, Planning Commission meeting and comment on the Draft EIR and/or the proposed project. Please contact the Community Development Department to confirm the meeting date, time, and location.

Upon completion of the review period, a Final EIR will be prepared based on the input received about the Draft EIR.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered 4 feet 1 inch, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday.

Last Sunday Judge Barry and wife returned home after a vacation of two weeks at Richardson Springs. In his own unique way Judge Barry describes his experiences at the Springs, and while it would not be fair to publish his description, he has adopted some new language to desribe those experiences. Anyway, both he and Mrs. Barry were greatly benefitted and anticipate an early return to a place that has done them so much good.

The baby boy of Mike Stuben has been seriously ill during the past few days. First he was taken down with measles, which developed into pneumonia, and in addition he became afflicted with whooping cough. His parents fear that the complication of diseases may result badly and they are doing everything in their power to relieve the child.

Alma Bennetts has been in Oakland druing the past week visiting with friends and relatives and expects to remain for a week or ten days more.

Report had it yesterday that Homer Lee had sold his place on Elizabeth street to Angelo Da Prato. Homer could not be seen by the Independent last night to confirm the rumor but it is safe to say that the property was sold at a very good figure. Probably the Lee family will continue to make their home in Washington, for Homer would scarcely know how to behave himself if he crossed the bridge permanently.

Lloyd Stewart returned to Monterey this week accompanied by his stepmother, Mrs. Hattie Stewart, and by his sister, Mrs. Archie Lewis and four children. Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Lewis will remain at the coast to visit with John Stewart, who is the postmaster at Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richeson and Miss Audrey Richeson motored to Arbuckle Wednesday and plan to remain there for a week.

H. Leinberger has returned from a vacation spent in San Francisco.

Mrs. S. T. Rickard and daughter, Ruth, accompanied by Mrs. M. Ellis have gone to Byron Hot Springs for a vacation.

The Bryte Extension Club held a meeting last Friday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were admitted to membership. A resolution was adopted thanking D. L. Freese for the loan of the piano in use by the club.

Mrs. M. Hagin and daughter of San Francisco are visitors at the F. W. Todhunter home.

QUARTER MILLION PAID FOR HOLLAND TRACTS

Clarksburg, July 7.—S. B. L. Spanggord of Oakland and Mrs. Evelyn Caulton of Berkeley have purchased farm land parcels in the Holland Land Company tract centering here, the

"IF DRUG ADDICTS INCREASE WITHIN NEXT TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AS IN LAST TWENTY-FIVE YEARS THIS WILL BE A NATION OF DRUG FIENDS"

While the authorities of the United States are wasting time trying to prevent well-balanced citizens from getting an invigorating and rejuvenating portion of alcohol those authorities are overlooking the great and debasing element that threatens the very life of the nation—narcotics.

So great is the increase in the number of drug addicts that the association opposing the consumption of narcotics hesitates not a moment in asserting there are four million known drug fiends in the United States today, without counting those who are not known.

Constable Buckingham said to the writer yesterday: "If drug addicts increase within the next twenty-five years as they have in the last twenty-five years this will be a nation of drug fiends."

A peace officer for many years in this section of Yolo County and a deputy sheriff for many years in Woodland and warden of the county hospital for a four-year term, Buckingham ought to be able to say a word of common sense in relation to this matter.

Be it remembered that he is a strict teetotaler, not having touched liquor of any kind for years, but yet he is a strong anti-prohibitionist, declaring that "if drug addicts increase within the next twenty-five years as they have in the last twenty-five years, this will be a nation of drug fiends."

Unfortunately this section of Yolo County is getting a great deal of blame for the presence of many drug addicts in this locality.

These people are driven out of Sacramento by the police force and the nearest exits are the bridges crossing the Sacramento river to the Yolo side.

One constable here cannot handle the situation and therefore the State pharmacy board together with the officers of Sacramento help out in an effort to prevent the distribution and consumption of narcotics.

Here is a slight list furnished the writer yesterday by Judge Barry and which shows the terrible depredations and the convictions for drug using since June 1st.

Yesterday, July 12th, Francisco Silva was sent to the county jail in Woodland for having in his possession cigarettes made of the Mexican weed known as Marihuna. His sentence was ninety days. He had been selling the cigarettes made of the drug to addicts in Sacramento, and fearing arrest he crossed the bridge to be arrested by Constable Buckingham and P. J. McInerney, now in the employ of the Grand Jury of Sacramento County under the direction of the district attorney.

Yesterday also, July 12th, Spencer Sutherland and Dempsey Ellwood were arrested under a charge of vagrancy. They were sentenced by Judge Barry to 180 days in the county jail in Woodland, but the sentence was suspended to give them time to leave town, for only a week ago they were released by Sheriff Monroe from the county jail in Woodland.

July 10th, A. Hanlan and J. Wilson were each given 90 days by Judge Barry for having morphine in their possession. They went to Woodland to feed and sleep at the expense of the taxpayers of Yolo County.

July 10th, Chas. Matthews and Frank Addison were given 90 days each in the county jail for having morphine and cocaine in their possession. The sentence was 90 days on each charge, to run consecutively, thus leaving them six months to be fed and bedded by the taxpayers of Yolo County.

On July 10th also, J. Haley, J. Wilson, R. LaRue, J. Reed, A. Johnson and J. Kelly were sent to the county jail in Woodland for 90 days each for having morphine in their possession. They, too, will board at the county jail in Yolo County at the expense of the taxpayers of Yolo County, even though they spent only a few hours on the Yolo side of the bridge after being sent away by the Sacramento police.

On the same day, Ed. Wheatley was sent up by Judge Barry for 180 days for having narcotics in his possession. He is an old offender having served time for drug peddling before now.

On June 21st, Gus Williams was fined $95 for having drugs in his possession. At the same time he had two checks in the amount of $150, each and $95 in silver in his possession. Judge Barry fined him $95 and suspended his sentence of 180 days to permit him to get out of town.

On June 14th, Buster Brown, a colored man, C. Johnson, J. Howell and Fred Ownes were arrested under the drug act. The three latter were sentenced to 90 days but were given permission to leave town immediately. Brown was permitted to go also, but was found two days later again distributing drugs to drug addicts in this neighborhood.

On June 4th, John Ryan was taken up with morphine in his possession. His sentence before Judge Barry was 90 days, which he is now serving in the county jail.

On the same day, Florence Montgomery and Grace Roberts were taken up on a charge of vagrancy and each sentenced to 180 days in the county jail in Woodland in an effort to rid them of the debasing habit of drug consumption. They, too, are boarding with Sheriff Monroe at the present time, although they never spent a cent in all their lives with a merchant of Yolo County or with any resident of Yolo County.

On June 2d, Thelma Johnson was sentenced to Woodland to the county jail to board with Sheriff Monroe for having in her possession morphine.

On the same day, Daisy McCarthy and Lillian Clark were arrested as drug fiends. They are now boarding with Sheriff Monroe at the expense of taxpayers of Yolo County, although both of them were former residents of Sacramento but were driven across the bridge by the Sacramento police.

On June 1st, Lazarus Andrews, colored, was sentenced to 90 days for having morphine in his possession. Tom Lewis went the same road on the same day for 90 days and George Finch took a similar route for having morphine and cocaine in his pockets.

On the same day, June 1st, James Venable was found with morphine and cocaine. He, too, is boarding with the sheriff of Yolo County at the request of Judge Barry.

Of the above list not one single person has been a resident of this section of Yolo County. They were driven across the bridge by the police of Sacramento and are victims of that terrible and deteriorating habit of drug consumption.

It is an assured fact that most farm laborers who are deprived of their beer or liquor turn to drug consumption as a palliative for their cravings.

Most of the drug addicts seem to be born, according to Judge Barry, to indulge in the habit but many are driven to it by the prohibition that is effective in the United States today.

As he says above: "If drug addicts increase within the next twenty-five years as they have in the last twenty-five years this will be a nation of drug fiends."

FIRE STATION FOR SALE BY VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

The auxiliary fire station that has been located on Mary street, near Fifth, for several years is being advertised for sale by the volunteer firemen of Washington.

Bids are being asked for the building so that the highest price will take it, and those bids must be in the hands of Secretary William Bartle not later than 6 p. m., Monday, August 6, 1923.

The firemen have made new arrangements in the town hall building for their fire fighting apparatus, thus leaving the building on Mary street vacant so far as fire fighting apparatus is concerned.

The building would make a splendid garage for some property owners in the neighborhood and could easily be moved, for it was built with the intention that it might have to be moved at some future date.

JAMES AND GREGORY WIN LIBERTY THROUGH THEIR AGES

Accused of bootlegging a few weeks ago, Albert James, familiarly known as "Jitney," and Dennis Gregory, were let off in Woodland last Saturday, July 7th, by Judge Harrison with a suspended sentence of 90 days.

James is well known in this locality but is practically blind. He is 78 years of age and for a time eked out a miserable existence by selling intoxicants to his neighbors and his friends.

Private detectives sent out by the district attorney's office arrested him, and he would surely have gone to jail had not Judge Harrison of Woodland been considerate enough to suspend his sentence.

Gregory probably did not sell a quart of intoxicating liquor in all his life. But two private detectives managed to buy some from him and he was arrested.

POOR STORY REFLECTING ON THIS SECTION OF YOLO COUNTY

On last Monday, July 9th, the Woodland Democrat published a story that does not reflect very creditably on the residents and taxpayers of Riverbank.

The story is particularly obnoxious because it emanated from an old resident of this section.

The story reads:

Canned heat as a stimulant is becoming more popular than moonshine, drugs or opium in Yolo County, according to County Horticultural Commissioner Harold Van Tassel, who has spent much time of late along the river in the vicinity of Broderick, Riverbank and Elkhorn, going and coming from orchards and horticultural activities in those districts.

"There is one big tree near Riverbank," declared Van Tassel this morning, "where there is a pile of several hundred discarded cans, all of the alcohol soaked pulp known as canned heat. Tramps and the outcast class use it to satisfy their craving for liquor and drugs. It is becoming the most popular of the stimulants for the hobo class because it is cheap and has a powerful 'kick' providing the consumer survives."

HURT IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Miss Francis Davidson, 517 B street, and Ralph H. Shaw, 512 2d street, were injured slightly when a tandem motorcycle on which they were riding crashed into an automobile driven by John Morton near the latter's home at Fifteenth and Q streets early last Saturday night.

Norton's car had been parked behind a pile of sand on Q street, and he had driven it around the sand and guided it to the side of the pile when the motorcycle struck the car.

After the accident Shaw was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Roberts on a charge of speeding, the officers claiming the motorcycle was being ridden at a speed of 25 miles an hour.

Some people have been venal enough to accuse the Sacramento County Grand Jury of being libertines.

All the nurses, are recognized as being the most chaste, the most pure, the most modest and the most sedate little things in the world.

News-Ledger Editorial

Governor's mansion idea dies, but leaves legacy

When local leaders several years ago floated the idea of building a compound for the governor on West Sacramento's riverfront, there was a feeling that it would be a victory just to be taken seriously. West Sacramento has long had an image problem, although this problem is slowly being erased by residential and commercial growth that have lessened the differences between surrounding cities and this one.

A few years back, the city acquired 43 acres of "prime" riverfront land, in a place where a marina had been planned and then abandoned by developers of the Lighthouse (now "The Rivers") project in the north. The land overlooks the Sacramento River and the mouth of the American River. It has a pretty good view of Sacramento's skyline.

The land looked to a lot of people like it could solve a nagging problem for the state of California. This state plays a huge role in the world, with an economy greater than that of most individual countries. In its leading global economic and political role, California frequently plays host to visiting American officials and to foreign dignitaries, including heads of state. Some of those visits center on California's capital, Sacramento.

But Sacramento lacks a governor's mansion up to the task of providing a secure, convenient and appropriate host to these VIPs.

That's why the West Sacramento site looked good – a compound could have been built that was secure, convenient to the capital and fitting for official visits.

So when the on-again, off-again talks to build a "proper" governor's mansion started again, West Sacramento made its case, offering to provide the riverfront land to the state for a governor's facility.

The proposal looked so sensible, in fact, that partisans in the city of Sacramento got scared, They opined that the capital city itself was entitled to any new governor's compound – even if that meant putting it in an inferior location in an outlying area of Sacramento much farther from the capitol building than West Sacramento's site. Even if the West Sacramento site were better, they said, it should be eliminated from consideration because it was a few hundred feet to the wrong side of city limits.

Talk has fizzled. Building a new governor's compound is once again a back-burner issue for the current governor and his wife. Now the West Sacramento facility is headed for use as an Indian cultural center, which should receive a hearty West Sacramento welcome.

The land's candidacy for a governor's compound was a failure, in part. But all that publicity and discussion did accomplish one goal that was certainly in the minds of its proponents all along: the talk advanced the view that this city is a place of great natural assets. It was another chip at the old stigma that there is something naturally second-class about West Sacramento.

Letters to the Editor

Angry over K-8 changes

I have become angry since I read in the News-Ledger and in bulletins coming home from my child's school that some of the elementary schools in West Sacramento (Bridgeway included) will be going K-8 over the next two years. I am opposed to this move for a number of reasons.

Where is the district going to get the money to fund this change-over? It is already over-budget and behind schedule on the new high school and elementary school. And the way the city is growing, we are going to have to build yet another elementary school soon. We are going to the polls in November to vote on whether we want to pass another bond to pay for the cost overruns of these two projects. Will the district try to put a rider on the bond to pay for the K-8 transition? We don't need to be robbing Peter to pay Paul. If the district tries to use the new bond for this misguided purpose, I for one am going to vote against it.

We were informed recently that Bridgeway Elementary will be getting portable classrooms to house the 7th graders next year. 8th graders will be coming the year after. Where are they going to put those portables — on the blacktop play area? This will mean that the 1-6 graders will have even less room for recess than they do now. The elementary schools are already over-crowded with their current student populations. Adding to the problem will only make things worse.

I'm sure I'm not the only one who realizes that 7th and 8th graders need to be separated from the younger students because their pre-teen, pre-pubescent natures will be detrimental to the learning environment of the younger students. More importantly, 7th and 8th grader students need to be in a middle school where they can transition from the single teacher/single classroom of grammar school to the multiple teachers/multiple classrooms of high school. Since it used to be a high school, Golden State Middle School is the perfect place of this to happen.

GSMS is a great campus. It has space for electives such as wood shop, art and computer science and amenities such as basketball courts, a band room, two swimming pools, a full-size gym and a separate cafeteria. And don't forget the award winning AVID and honors programs. I don't know of any middle schools in Sacramento that can boast of all these things. Where are students going to get access to these offerings at an elementary school?

People, let's take a minute and think about this. K-8 campuses are not in the best interest of our school district, our students, or our checkbooks. Yes, I know that Golden State is over-crowded, but I have a common sense solution for that which won't involve spending any additional money. When the new high school opens in 2008, the district can make River City campus into a second middle school, thus relieving the over-crowding at Golden State. Then we West Sacramentans can brag about our two great middle schools, and our new state-of-the-art high school. Maybe it's not too late; maybe if we make enough noise, the school district will listen to us.

Vets say thanks

We are members of the Yolo County Veterans Coalition and represent most of the 11,000 veterans who reside in our county. We are members of the American Legion Posts in Woodland and West Sacramento, Veterans of Foreign War Posts of Davis, West Sacramento, Woodland and Winters, Disabled Veterans of America and the West Sacramento Women's Auxiliary. We are very thankful to the Rumsey Community Fund and executive director Karen Charney for their very generous donation to our Coalition. This support will keep the Veterans Van operation on the road for another year. We pick up any veteran in Woodland, Davis and West Sacramento and transport them to their VA medical appointments and bring them back free of charge. We have two vans and run them daily. Last year we transported over 1,500 veterans to their medical appointments. These veterans are mostly elderly and disabled and cannot drive any longer.

The Rumsey Community Fund has stepped to the plate to support this very important operation. The VA offers very inexpensive and sometimes free medical care, but they are located at Mather, McCellan and Martinez. Donations like this help us make the connection between the patient and the care. The Rumsey Band of Wintun Indians have shown a very high degree of community responsibility and are working hard to make this county the best it can be for all residents.

"Shrek the Third"

Running time: 93 minutes
MPAA rating: PG

Just so you where we stand: I adored the first Shrek movie. I own the DVD and have watched it at least a dozen times. The animation, the voice acting, the musical numbers ... magic.

"Shrek 2" was pretty good, too. The addition of Antonio Banderas as Puss in Boots was a stroke of comic genius. And while the sequel wasn't as magical as the original, I still thought it had a lot going for it.

Which brings us to "Shrek the Third."

Gah. What a snoozer.

I can't believe that a movie that is so beautifully animated and rendered could be so boring. Even most of the cast sound like they're reading their lines in their sleep (Cameron Diaz and Justin Timberlake, I'm looking in your direction). The jokes are the same tired, rehashed gags we've seen a thousand times. Sure, there were a few times I chuckled, but I didn't have the belly-laughs I got when watching the original.

"Shrek the Third" has three plots: 1. Shrek (Mike Myers) dealing with the Mega-Angst of becoming a father; 2. The king is dead, and because Shrek has Mega-Angst about becoming king (because for some reason, the king's Daughter By Blood, Fiona, can't become the monarch), he goes in search of Arthur (Timberlake) to take the crown; and 3. Prince Charming plots to assume the thrown while Shrek is away on his Quest, leaving Fiona (Diaz) and a gaggle of princesses to defend the land of Far Far Away.

Donkey and Shrek

That's a lotta plot — and it gets in the way of what makes a good Shrek movie. It's the relationship between Shrek and his friends that makes the movies great — the comedy of diverse personalities, not self-consciously hip pop culture references.

I really can't recommend that you pay full price to see "Shrek the Third." Catch it at a matinee if you simply MUST see it. Otherwise wait for it to hit the dollar theater or home video.

Measure K Report

December 31, 2006

Measures J & K

In November 2002, West Sacramento voters approved two measures that established a sales tax override that was intended to supplement the city's general fund for general government purposes. Measure J was an advisory measure that described the City Council's conceptual plan on how the money should be spent, and Measure K was the measure that actually implemented the sales tax override. The initial amount generated from the ½% override was estimated to be $5 million annually. Now it appears that we will not reach this level of the revenue until Wal-Mart and Target have been open for a year or so.

What Measure J Asked

If Measure K is approved, should the proceeds fund the repair and maintenance of city streets, new parks and community facilities, library services, after-school programs, childcare and senior facilities, expanded police and fire protection, and reductions in utility bills and property tax assessments?

How Measure K Works

Measure K specified that the ½% override would consist of ¼% that would cease after ten years, and ¼% that would continue indefinitely. The funds generated by the override have been divided into two categories: a base allocation and a capital allocation. The base allocation is funded with the ongoing ¼%, and the capital allocation is funded with the ¼% that will cease after ten years. The base allocation is to be used for ongoing programs and activities; the capital allocation is to be used for specific projects. In the case of capital allocation, bonding and borrowing against the projected annual cash flow has enabled a larger amount of funding to be available at the onset of the ten-year period.

This Report

Measure K also included the requirement that "the citizens shall receive annually a published report of revenues and disbursements following a public hearing." A public hearing for that purpose is held each June.

This report shows that these Allocations are consistent with Measure J.

Overview

In the information presented below, Allocation refers to the distribution of Measure K funds in accordance with Measure J, along with revenues from other sources, while Actual refers to actual disbursement of those funds.

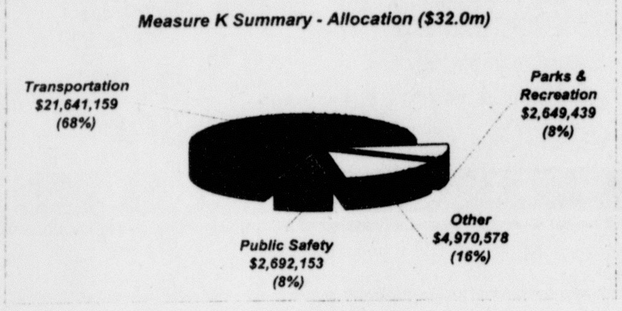
As the graph for Allocations below shows, Public Safety receives 8% of the revenue for programs, including additional police and fire personnel, new equipment and facility repairs.

Transportation programs, receiving 68% of the revenue, include expanded street sweeping and minor street maintenance. Major projects in this category include sidewalk repair, traffic safety upgrades, bike lane striping and an accelerated program for resurfacing of many residential streets.

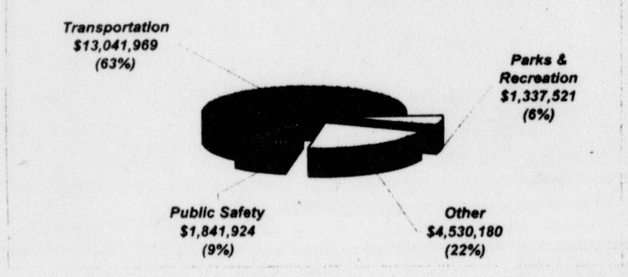
Parks and Recreation, with 8% of the revenue, offers expanded after-school and childcare programs, and provides for certain facilities at various community sites, including restrooms, playgrounds and irrigation improvements in parks, skate park, and fishing dock improvements.

Finally, the Other category, accumulating miscellaneous programs and projects, receives the remaining 16% of the revenue. In this category are funds for: the water service charge reduction; purchase of property for the expanded Turner Library; a bus and future light-rail center; and seed money for a new community center.

Measure K Summary - Allocation ($32.0m)



Measure K Summary - Actual ($20.8m)



REVENUE AND DISBURSEMENTS THROUGH THE PERIOD ENDING DECEMBER 31, 2006

	Allocation	Actual Expense
REVENUES
Measure K Sales Tax and Other Revenues		18,802,673
EXPENDITURES
PUBLIC SAFETY
Base
Investigations - Personnel Costs, Safety Equipment, Vehicles & Equipment	1,100,514	769,440
Allocation - Expands police and code enforcement resources dedicated to the West Capitol Avenue corridor. Funds will be spent on specialized training, supplies and equipment.
Actual Expense - Measure K moneys allotted to the Police Department were used to fund two police officer positions, a code enforcement officer and a vehicle. These positions became the West Capitol Avenue Impact Team. The team worked under a community policing philosophy, using partnerships with public and private entities to solve identified community issues and priorities.
Their efforts yielded substantial results as measured by the decrease in police calls for service in the primary focus area of West Capitol Avenue. Police calls for disorderly conduct and calls for fights fell by 29%. Measuring the combined statistics on calls for trespassing, theft, suspicious circumstances, fights, and disorderly conduct, the Police Department saw a decrease of 26% in calls for service.
The team targeted the illegal use of shopping carts to reduce the number of abandoned shopping carts throughout the city, removed problem payphones that were being used for drug and prostitution activity, and addressed bus stops identified by local business owners and citizens as bases of operation for criminal activity and antisocial behaviors.
The team worked with city and community stakeholders to clean up transient camps along Merkley, SR 275, Old River Road near the Raley Field, and north to The Rivers development project. Collaborative teams were developed with Parks and Recreation, RD 900, and the County Probation Department. The Impact Team provided law enforcement support and assistance, directing these resources to target areas where the overgrowth of vegetation was concealing camping, drug use and sales, and prostitution activity.
The Impact Team coordinated weekly prostitution stings, utilizing outside agency assistance and the media to abate the chronic problem of prostitution activity in the revitalization area on West Capitol Avenue.
The Impact Team's focus on the environmental issues propagating criminal activity along West Capitol Avenue soon generated into a number of investigations related to the business practices of a number of city motel owners and operators. These investigations revealed a direct link between the motels and the prostitution, drug use and sales activity prevalent in the area. The Impact Team used criminal and civil action to address these issues.

After-School Childcare Program	762,628	668,944
Allocation/Actual Expense - Funding to expand various existing community service programs, as follows:
Kid Zone (formerly The After School Adventure - TAA)
• A program that provides after-school childcare at local elementary school sites from school dismissal until 5:30 p.m. • This service allows parents who work weekdays to enroll their child/children in a supervised program. • The program provides time for homework, as well as organized play, games, arts and crafts, sports activities, and a healthy snack.
Program Augmentation
• Measure K has provided funding for expansion of the Kid Zone After-School Program that serves elementary children at local elementary schools Monday Friday, school dismissal to 5:30 p.m. Each month, 180 children have benefited from this Measure K program. • In the past, the program was only first three weeks of the month, and not held the months of September, December and June. Partial school months did not include program as there was just not enough funding. Measure K funding made it possible to offer Kid Zone every week of the month, every month of the year. Every day that school is in session, Kid Zone is in session at the original three Kid Zone sites: Elkhorn, Westfield and Westmore Oaks. • Funding provides daily nutritious snack, program materials, arts and crafts supplies, sports equipment, books, staff labor, staff uniforms, staff training and certifications, program trips and special events, buses, flyers and monthly parent calendars, etc.
Program Expansion
• Funding allowed the Kid Zone program to open at Evergreen and Alyce Norman/Bryte. The latter is held at Alyce Norman School, but serves both Alyce Norman and Bryte students, and is a collaboration between our program and the principals of the two schools.
Scholarships
• Measure K funds scholarships to children attending all of the five Kid Zone sites: Alyce Norman/Bryte, Elkhorn, Evergreen, Westfield and Westmore Oaks. Currently the program only costs a $2.00 per day, and scholarships opportunity for children to attend the program absolutely free. Next year the program will be free to all participants, as the city and school district are collaborating in the ASES (After School Education Safety) grant through the state Department of Education. The grant requires a 33% match, which Measure K KID Zone funds will help provide.
K.I.D.S. (Kids Involved During Summer)
• A summer neighborhood recreation day-camp for children, ages 5 to 12. • This service allows parents who work weekdaye to enroll their child/children in a supervised program. • The program provides organized play, games, arts and crafts, field trips, sports activities, and a healthy snack.
Program Augmentation
• Measure K has provided funding for expansion of K.I.D.S. Summer Camp. A seven-week camp offered during summer vacation at local parks and elementary school sites (eight sites total) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Last summer over 350 children benefited from this Measure K funded program. • Funding has allowed us to increase program supplies, activities, and special events offered at the K.I.D.S. camp sites. It has allowed us to tape the annual K.I.D.S talent show and broadcast it on our local access cable. Some of the fun new activities offered include a bowling trip, as well as trips to the Imax Theater and State Capitol.
Program Expansion
• Funding has allowed us to add new sites at Southport Gateway Park and Bridgeway Island Park. The latter has been highly successful, and is one of the two highest attended sites. Attendance reaches 90 children on some days. As with existing K.I.D.S. camp sites, funding provides program materials, arts and crafts, sports equipment, food and refreshments for the children, staff labor, staff uniforms, staff training and certifications, program trips and special events, buses, flyers and parent calendars, banners, water toys to stay cool in the summer, and participant shirts. Scholarships funding has allowed children to attend the program for free if they meet income eligibility guidelines established by the National School Fund Program.
Teen Camp
• A program that provides middle school students a summer of fun recreational activities at the Club West Teen Center for six weeks. The program operates Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. • This service allows parents who work weekdays to enroll their middle-school-age child/children in a supervised program. • The program provides organized play, games, arts and crafts, sports activities, trips, and healthy snacks and lunch.
Program Implementation
Measure K funding has enabled the Parks & Recreation Department to develop this new program for up to 40 students in middle school (grades 7 and 8). Teens participate in exciting activities and trips. These activities include: Family Fun Day, horseback riding, a trip to San Francisco, bowling, swimming, laser tag, Marine World, Golf Land Sunsplash, a Monarchs game, and a River Cats game. As part of the registration fee, lunch is provided daily. Funding provides program materials, arts and crafts supplies, sports equipment, Family Fun Day game and inflatable rentals, food and refreshments for teens, staff labor, staff uniforms, staff training and certifications, program trips and special events, buses, flyers and parent calendars, and participant shirts.

West Sacramento Rotary Club

On May 23, approximately 20 families received donations of computer equipment, along with training, at the Collings Teen Center, thanks to the Computers 4 Kids Program (C4K) of West Sacramento.

Program Director and Rotarian Lewis Bair started the evening event by greeting the families qualifying for donations and giving an orientation about the origins and importance of this program, in addition to the benefits for their kids and the entire family.

Then children received hands-on instruction from a crew of volunteer trainers, most from the West Sacramento Rotary Club. The Club's President-elect Drew Gidlof received recognition from Janamarie Salocks, who was at the event representing California State Assembly Representative Lois Wolk. The honor was for donating funds and assistance to provide 100 computers to the program. Also present were City Council Member Mark Johannessen and Dave Dove, executive director of the Collings Teen Center.

Computers 4 Kids is a collaboration of the West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, Collings Teen Center, Washington Unified School District, Yolo County Office of Education, Sacramento City College and local businesses, including Morrow Surveying, First Northern Bank and Ramco Enterprises. All recipients are low income WUSD students in the 4th grade and up.

West Sacramento Rotary Club has donated $5000 in addition to many hours of training and volunteer support to the effort this year. Bair concluded his talk by expressing sincere thanks to all of the organizations and individuals that have contributed to this vital effort to prepare kids for tomorrow's workforce. For information about how your or your business can support this program, email Lewis Bair at lewisbair@c4kca.org.
